CRIMINAL MATTERS.

Mrs. Nack Sentenced Fifteen Years in Sing Sing

AS A PENALTY FOR HER PART.

Her Evidence For the State Saved Her Neck.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Augusta Nack, jointly charged with Martin Thorne, the arch-murderer of William Guldensuppe, the bathruber at Woodside, L. I., in June last year, was sentenced to 15 years in the state prison at Auburn.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Augusta Nack will receive sentence for her complicity in the murder of William Guldensuppe, to which she confessed during the trial of Martin Thorne, now under death sentence in the prison at Sing Sing. She will be arraigned in the courtroom at Long Island City, and probably will plead guilty to manslaughter, the punishment of which is 20 years. Sentence will be passed by Judge Garretson.

It is understood that there has been an arrangement between District Attorney Youngs and Mrs. Nack's counsel, regarding the plea Mrs. Nack will make, and that sentence will be passed accordingly.

It was reported last night that Herman Nack, the husband of the woman, will as soon as she is sentenced to imprisonment, have papers served in a suit for absolute divorce. It is said he has contemplated doing this before, but by advice refrained from doing so until she had been sentenced for the crime. In her confession Mrs. Nack did not make any admission giving ground for a divorce in this state, but it is said that no objection to the decree will be entered by her.

Durrant's Body.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—The body of Theodore Durrant is still unburied. The Odd Fellows' crematory has made it refusal to receive the body emphatic. The Los Angeles institution also has been appealed to in vain. Cypress Lawn has not made its refusal as absolute as others and the Durrants have a lingering hope that possibly their son's funeral may yet be carried out there. Failing in that they will probably bury the body in the sea. Something must be done before Wednesday or the law will intervene to force the disposal of the remains.

Mr. Durrant talks of a lawsuit against the crematories which have declined to receive the remains. The desire of the parents is to carry out the request of their son, that his body be so disposed of that no post-mortem examination can be made.

To Be Cremated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—The body of Theodore Durrant still lies in the home of his parents. Under the law it must be disposed of today or the health authorities will take charge of it. No crematory in this neighborhood will receive it. No cemetery but one will give it shelter, and the parents fear a plot to rob the grave. The last resort lies in shipping the remains to the crematory at Pasadena, the managers of which have consented to reduce the remains to ashes.

Late last night it was decided that the body should be removed to the undertaker's where it will be placed in a zinc box for shipment to Los Angeles. The remains will be accompanied by the father and mother, and arrive at Los Angeles on Wednesday. Rev. Father Lynch visited the parents' home today, and held an informal burial service. After his departure a number of the friends of the family gathered in the rooms and sang psalms and other music, such as Durrant liked in his lifetime.

A Brave Woman.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Two men who tried to rob Conductor Warren of a Blue Island-avenue cable train, were killed by a woman passenger named Miss Sadie Williams. Besides Miss Williams there were three other passengers, another woman and two men and the gripman on the train. Neither the male passengers nor the gripman came to the help of the conductor, who was having a desperate fight with the robbers.

Just as the robbers were getting the best of the fight Miss Williams concluded to take a hand. Grabbing a long baton, that fastened her hat to her hair, she made a plunge with the pin on the robber nearest her. All her strength was lent to the thrust and the man screamed with pain. He released his hold on the conductor and turned on Miss Williams. She struck him again and he quit the fight.

Miss Williams went for the next man and made a thrust for his eyes. The point of the pin struck his cheek, "Take her off!" cried the robber. He turned to look for his companion, who by that time was on the platform, making ready to jump. He was asked to come back, but he did not. Meantime the young woman was striking for more vital parts than his face. She reached with her pin for his stomach. His thick clothing saved his life.

The conductor was bleeding and in a half-dazed condition. When he came to his senses there were but two passengers on the car. The others, whose names could not be learned, had gone. So had the robbers.

When the excitement was over and the robbers had disappeared Miss Williams replaced her hat and then asked the conductor if he was hurt. He was not. Then she fainted. She was soon revived, however, and escorted to her home.

Miss Williams resides with her parents and is employed in one of the downtown offices. She is small of frame, but it is said that she has the courage of a soldier.

Murder in the Second Degree.

EGERSA, Kan., Jan. 11.—The jury in the New case returned a verdict of murder in the second degree against George Dobbs and Mrs. Emilie New, jointly charged with the murder of the latter's husband, Joseph New, on October 31. After the jury retired Mrs. New made a confession. A first-degree verdict had been expected. Sentence was deferred temporarily.

Held Up.

PRESCOTT, Ariz., Jan. 11.—One man has succeeded in holding up the Palace saloon, a gambling place, and at the point of pistol pointed at the money in sight. He terrorized about 20 patrons of the place and made his escape with nearly $500. He is believed to have had an accomplice on the outside, and both men are supposed to have escaped on a north-bound train.

Court-Martial.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—The court-martial of Major Count Esterhazy, the retired French army officer, charged with writing letters reflecting in strong language on France and the French army, opened under the presidency of General de Luxer.

Murdered in Their Beds.

WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 11.—Francis D. Newton, a prosperous farmer of Brookfield, his wife, Sarah, and their 10-year-old adopted daughter, Ethel, were found murdered in their beds. The crime was discovered by neighbors, whose curiosity was aroused by the bellowing of unfed cattle. The three had been killed with an ax. A hired man named Paul is missing.

Electrocuted.

SING SING, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Hadley Sutherland, the negro murderer, was electrocuted. Seventeen hundred and eighty volts were turned on at 11:15 and turned off at 11:23. Sutherland, in Brooklyn, March last, killed Sarah Wrenn, his mistress.

Anti-Sealing.

NIAGARA FALLS, Jan. 11.—The United States customs officers stationed at both bridges have been ordered to seal all furs and skins, including seal skins. Nearly all of the Canadians were notified to leave their sacks, gloves and caps on the other side if they did not want them confiscated.

The situation at Niagara Falls is probably different from that at any other point on the frontier. Both sides of the river are thickly settled, and the Canadian and American populations go back and forth daily. On the side, back of the high bluff, a number of wealthy American families have country seats, and a great many of the women in these families, as well as Canadian women, who wear seal skin coats, pass over the river to the American side daily, while out driving and making calls.

Several seal skin hats of Canadians were seized belonging to gentlemen engaged on business at Buffalo and New York, and many a man went on to his destination wearing a little traveling cap, after having left his name and something by which he could identify his confiscated head-gear.

The laws also affects the Canadian railroads running from Chicago eastward. These include the Michigan Central, the Grand Trunk, the Canadian Pacific, the Wabash and the Lehigh Valley.

The seal skin garments taken from their walters are turned over to appraisers at custom-houses, where the owners, after filling an application, must wait until notice has been sent to the secretary of the treasury for a decision in the matter.

H. W. Corbett's Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—It had been expected that the senate on privileges and elections would meet Monday, to take up the claim of H. W. Corbett to a seat in the senate, from Oregon, on the appointment of Governor Lord, of that state; but owing to the absence of that state's senator, the meeting will not be held until next Monday. Burrows, of Michigan, is the only Republican on the committee who will oppose the seating of Corbett.

He takes the position that the decision in the Mantle case is a precedent against appointment of senators where legislatures had an opportunity to act, which cannot be put aside. His vote will thus have the effect of sending the matter to the senate on an adverse report, as without Burrows the committee is a tie.

Noted Inventor Dead.

LYNN, Mass., Jan. 11.—Seth D. Tripp whose inventions revolutionized shoemaking, is dead, aged 72 years. When about 20 years of age he worked on his first machine which was for peeling shoes and it was pronounced success from the start. Previous to this all the work in making shoes was done by hand. The machine was considered a wonder, and finally found its way into many factories.

He next invented a counter-silver and later secured numerous patents on rolling machinery, sole-molders, shank cutters, heel-polishers, sole-pressers and welt-cutting and beating-out machines.

MARK HANNA SAFE.

Claims the Necessary Seventy-Three Votes.

THE SENATORIAL FIGHT ON.

Mark Hanna on the Brink of Victory.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 11.—A great stir has been on at the capitol today over the senatorial fight between Hanna and the opposition. It was claimed all forenoon that he had the necessary seventy-three votes to elect him senator to succeed himself. The claim is made that he has 56 votes in the house and 17 in the senate, making the necessary 73 votes, but whether they will be cast in joint convention tomorrow, or whether they will even be cast at the delayed session this afternoon is problematical.

3:10 p. m.—Hanna has 56 votes in house and 17 in senate which insures his return. Great interest in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 11.—Senator Hanna was believed to be short, last night, one vote of election. The opposition was not sure of enough votes for any one man, as against only 72 for Hanna, but they felt confident at least of preventing Hanna's election. The Democratic steering committee demanded of Kurtz that he furnish at least eight affidavits from Republican members that they would stand in with the 65 Democrats in voting against Hanna. The Democratic steering committee reported that they were satisfied.

Representative Gayman, chairman of the Democratic steering committee, went so far as to say that Hanna's defeat was assured. There is no doubt that Senator Hanna was beaten for a week previous to Friday when Representative Manuel changed in his favor. On Saturday the Hanna men secured Representative Griffith, but they made no accession and it is the general belief that they were short one vote last night.

There was a feeling among many of the opponents of Hanna that if he is not defeated on the first, or by the second ballot that he would not be defeated at all. The anti-Hanna workers say they had a majority of five against Hanna when they expressed their strength in organizing the legislature, and if they come down to a majority of only one against Hanna, they fear the coalition may not hold together.

While the opposition still insists on Kurtz as the candidate against Hanna, yet they say that Bushnell Kutz, or any other one will be dropped as soon as it is demonstrated that he cannot secure all of the votes of either the anti-Hanna Republicans or Democrats. The name more prominently mentioned was that of Representative Jones, who represents Stark county, the home of President McKinley. Mr. Jones is a Republican and prominent in the miners' union. He is for free silver, and is advocated as the labor candidate against the capital.

No Uprising.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Indian office has received no information of the burning at the stake of Seminole Indians charged with the murder of Mrs. Simmons. The Indian commissioner expresses the belief that there will be general uprising because of the tragedy.

INCORRECT.—THE JOURNAL was misinformed Monday in reporting the schedule to be followed by the "depot car" of the Salem & Suburban Railway Co. to correspond with the slight change in the leaving time of the Southern Pacific passengers. The correct time that the car will leave the intersection of Ferry and Commercial streets for the respective trains until further announced is as follows: 6:30 a. m., 10:30 a. m., 1:30 p. m. and 8:00 p. m.

CONSTABLE RESIGNS.—County Judge G. P. Terrell today received a communication from O. H. Gilbert, of Lincoln (Aumsville) precinct in which that gentleman tenders his resignation as constable for Lincoln district, the same to take effect immediately. Mr. Gilbert's resignation will be considered by the court when it reconvenes at the call of Judge Terrell in the near future.

Hope Abandoned.

"For 15 years I suffered with catarrh and indigestion and my whole system was broken down. I almost abandoned hope of recovery. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and its effects were marvelous. I am now able to sleep well, have a good appetite and have gained in weight." James Wilder, Oroville, Washington.

JUDGE STEARNS RESIGNS.

Ill Health Compels the Portland Judge to Retire.

Governor Lord today received the resignation of Loyal B. Stearns as circuit judge of Dept. No. 3, circuit court, of Multnomah county, known as the fourth district. The judge has been failing for some time, and this step is taken upon the advice of his physician who declares his trouble to be nervous prostration and asserts that his patient would put his life in jeopardy by further service on the bench.

He has been on the state bench nearly thirteen years, and a resident of Portland since early in the '70s. Since 1874 Judge Stearns has been in public life, beginning as engraving clerk in the legislature and afterward serving as secretary of the state board of immigration. In 1876 he was admitted to the bar and became a partner in Addison C. Gibbs. Elected to the legislature in 1878, he served on the committee on ways and means, and the committee on judiciary, and was honored by being elected temporary speaker of the house. He was appointed police judge of Portland in January, 1879, and reappointed in 1881. His next position was that of city attorney, to which place he was chosen in 1882.

In June, 1882, he was elected county judge, and served in this capacity for four years. The fitness of Judge Stearns for public duty was by this time well recognized by his friends, and when an extra judge for the circuit court of the fourth judicial district was decided upon by the legislature, Governor Moody appointed Judge Stearns to the position. He was elected to succeed himself in 1885.

PROBABLE CANDIDATES.—The air is filled with rumors as to who shall succeed Judge Stearns, and the Portland politicians were on the ground early to get the ear of Oregon's chief executive. Last evening Cyrus Dole came up from the metropolis and this morning Hon. Joseph Simon, with business at the capital, Gov. Lord went to Portland on the afternoon train, and will probably know more about the situation upon his return. Among the candidates who are being recommended are Judge George H. Williams, A. L. Frazer, H. H. Northrup, J. B. Cleland, Whaley and Holcomb.

Authentic Casts.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—The Field Columbian museum is to have the only series of authentic casts of Pueblo people in existence. There are a few casts made from negroes and pictures at Washington and European museums, as well as a very few authentic casts, but it has been most difficult to get casts of these strange people.

The casts to be set up in the Field museum were made in the last month under the direction of George A. Dorsey, curator of the museum, and by F. Melville, the sculptor, who has done the same kind of work before. These two have made their trip to the Pueblo village of Orabi in the western mesa of Arizona, and against many odds have brought away the casts and properties for making a most remarkable display of the Pueblos.

The figures include a weaver, two women grinding corn, a breadmaker, a potter, a brewer and a thrower, a bride and two kachina figures. The men, women and children from whom the casts were made, in almost every case, sold the clothes which they wore to the scientists, and the figures will be garbed in these when they are ready for exhibition.

The Royal is the highest grade baking powder known. Actual tests show it goes one-third further than any other brand.

Veteran Ill.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Colonel Thomas Hoyer Monstery, the veteran fencing-master of Chicago, is a patient at St. Luke's hospital, on account of rheumatism. He has been at the hospital for several days, and his condition is considered serious by reason of his advanced age, the veteran being in his 85th year.

Colonel Monstery's career is replete with adventures. It is said he has served under twelve flags, and in every case he declares he fought on the side of freedom. He first came to this country at the outbreak of the Mexican war. Going to New Orleans, he enlisted, but had not been in the service long before he was discharged. His wound kept him out of active service during the rest of the war. He is said to be the oldest Mexican war veteran living in Chicago.
